This photo was taken with a GoPro Hero 3+ Black Edition camera on a DJI Phantom Quadcopter flown by Tony Koop on January 11th, 2014 at 7:24pm. My initial objective for this flight was to photograph the Orpheum Theatre. It turned into my first attempt at photographing the Minneapolis skyline when I couldn't quite get the perspective I wanted of the Orpheum.

Ramp Spiral #1

This photo was taken with a GoPro Hero 3+ Black Edition camera on a DJI Phantom Quadcopter flown by Tony Koop on January 17th, 2014 at 6:17pm. The objective of this photo shoot was to capture the Minneapolis skyline. While returning for landing, I noticed the unusual perspective of this parking ramp spiral and knew I had to shoot it. This was shot just moments after Downtown Minneapolis #2.

Downtown Minneapolis #2

This photo was taken with a GoPro Hero 3+ Black Edition camera on a DJI Phantom Quadcopter flown by Tony Koop on January 17th, 2014 at 6:14pm. It was the night before the Metrodome fell to make way for the new stadium.

Damn it was cold. The atmosphere was crystal clear and frigid at 6°F as shown on the TCF Tower just to the right of the Foshay.
